1) Earned doctorate from an accredited institution by September 1, 2016.
2) Record of effective teaching, in courses listed below.
3) Licensed or CA license-eligible with the ability to supervise MFT/LPCC trainees.
4) Potential for a successful research program.

The Department of Psychology at California State University, Bakersfield (CSUB) seeks to fill one tenure-track assistant professor position primarily for its M.S. in Counseling Psychology graduate program (www.csub.edu/cpsy) with a start date of September 1, 2016. The area of hire is in counseling or clinical psychology. The M.S. in Counseling Psychology is a three-year program designed to prepare students for Marriage and Family Therapy (MFT) and Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC) licensure (www.bbs.ca.gov). The successful candidate will be able to teach courses in several areas of MFT/LPCC training, including psychotherapeutic interventions with families, groups, and couples, multicultural issues, substance disorders, and human sexuality. The candidate must be licensed or license-eligible to practice in California and be able in a short time to supervise MFT/LPCC trainees in our on-campus University Counselor Training Clinic (UCTC). In addition to teaching and academic advising, the faculty member will initiate and maintain an active research program, preferably one that involves students. To become tenured, the faculty candidate will develop a continuous record of achievement in teaching, research/scholarship, and professionally-related service.

Background Check: A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Mandated Reporter: The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Compensation: Commensurate with experience and qualifications. CSUB offers a generous benefit package (e.g., excellent health, dental, vision, and retirement benefits)

Application: Complete applications must include: 1) original and personalized letter of application addressing the responsibilities and qualifications described above; 2) current vita; 3) copy of university transcripts verifying academic record and award of doctorate (or anticipated date of award); and 4) three (3) letters of reference. Additional references may be contacted by the Search & Screening Committee. Review of completed application files by the Search & Screening Committee will begin on/about November 1, 2015, and will continue until the position is filled.

Applications should be sent to the following with the location address listed above:
