Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarships for Study Abroad - FAH (Vol. 9, No. 23)

Students are advised that these scholarships are competitive, but are well worth the effort if you are considering participating in a study abroad program. The award is up to $23,000 for tuition, travel expenses, supplies and reasonable room and board expenses associated with the program.

Applicants need to be sponsored by a local Rotary Club, and are selected by a committee representing the Rotary district. The deadline for application is May 16, 2008 with interviews held on May 31, 2008 at a city in our district.

The applicant should have in mind a country and an institution where they wish to pursue their studies. The applicant should have proficiency in the language associated with the country of study. Recipients are expected to attend Rotary meetings in the country of study, and then share their experiences with our local Rotary upon their return.

Information and applications are availability on the web at <http://www.rotary.org> click students and youth, educational programs, ambassadorial scholarships. Interested persons can contact the Rotary Club of Bakersfield at (661) 325-0696.
