Application Deadline Date: Review of applications begins January 30, 2016 (position open until filled)

Announcement Deletion: September 3, 2016 or when filled

Description: Full-time Petroleum Geologist will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in petroleum geology, subsurface mapping, geophysics, and upper-division/graduate courses in their area of expertise.

Qualifications: Applicants should hold a graduate degree in Geology or Earth Science with expertise in Petroleum Geology. Experience in the petroleum industry will be an advantage and candidates with a Ph.D. are preferred.

Compensation: Commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Application: The application package must include (1) an application letter detailing the candidate's qualifications and experience relative to the position description, (2) a statement of teaching philosophy and teaching interests (one page), (3) curriculum vitae, and (4) unofficial transcripts. Official transcripts and three letters of recommendation will be requested of applicants being seriously considered. Official and unofficial transcripts from institutions outside the United States must be accompanied by an evaluation by an accredited evaluation office (see www.naces.org).

Setting:

Background Check: A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Mandated Reporter: The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.
