

Understanding Learning Disabilities: Faculty Responsibilities and Teaching Strategies

Join the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) and the Faculty Teaching and Learning Center (TLC) for a discussion about learning disabilities. This workshop provides a practical and informative training opportunity.

LEARNING DISABILITIES IN A UNIVERSITY SETTING: PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS FOR FACULTY

DATE: Friday, February 25th
TIME: 2:00 pm – 5:00pm
LOCATION: TLC Conference Room

The workshop provides answers to specific faculty questions:

- Who is considered learning disabled in the University?
- How are appropriate accommodations are determined?
- What are the legal implications of accommodating students or Not accommodating students?
- What are my responsibilities? Faculty, Student, and SSD.
By the end of the workshop you will have:
 - A basic understanding of appropriate accommodations.
 - A set of useful contacts and resources.
- Strategies you may use to support students with disabilities in course activities.

Each workshop participant will receive a $100.00 TLC grant for professional development activities related to their courses.

Registration is limited so confirm your reservation.
