YOU CAN REPORT IMPROPER ACTS

We are your confidential avenue for reporting improper activities by state agencies or employees. It is your responsibility, as a government employee, to report any type of fraud, waste, or abuse, which ultimately protects scarce state resources. It is also your right to be free from retaliation for doing so.

In 2022, we received 1,075 whistleblower allegations, most of which concerned the waste of state funds, misuse of state resources, improper contracting, and time and attendance abuse. Whistleblower complaints through our office have triggered investigations revealing $585 million in improper spending, such as:

- Officials at a state agency wasted nearly $114,000 in public funds when they placed and kept an analyst on Administrative Time Off for approximately 20 months when she could have continued working during much of that time.
- Human resources staff did not account for an employee's absences totaling 600 hours, which resulted in an overpayment to the employee of more than $38,000.
- A supervisor who oversaw and controlled access to several state vehicles repeatedly misused one of the state vehicles for his daily commute, causing the State to incur nearly $11,000 in vehicle costs.

Prepare Before Filing
Gather your thoughts before filing a complaint and prepare yourself to answer the following questions:
- What is the improper activity?
- Who acted improperly?
- Where does that person work?
- How often and for how long has the activity been occurring?
- Why has it been allowed to continue?

Support What You Allege
We are unable to investigate allegations without support for your complaint. Therefore, please remember to include the following:
- Description of the evidence that proves what you are alleging.
- Names and telephone numbers of knowledgeable witnesses.
- Copies of any documents you have in your possession that support your allegation.
(Please do not submit original documents, as they cannot be returned.)

Consider Providing Contact Information
You have a right to file a complaint anonymously. However, we may not be able to investigate your complaint if we cannot talk to you to confirm the information you are providing or obtain additional information. Please remember that if you identify yourself to us, we cannot reveal your identity to anyone else without your permission, except to appropriate law enforcement personnel who are conducting a criminal investigation.

Keep Your Complaint Confidential
We investigate complaints as confidentially as possible to protect both your identity as a whistleblower and our ability to gather information without interference. To protect the confidentiality of your complaint, we encourage you not to tell anyone that you filed a complaint with us.

WHAT TO REPORT

- Requires us to protect your identity (except from law enforcement);
