

ETHS 3530: Migrations and Diasporas

Course Description: People are driven or forced to move for various reasons including: jobs, political instability, violence, poverty, famine, and more. This course examines the push and pull factors that drive migration to the United States and the diasporic populations with distinct ethnic identities that emerge.

Professor José G. Villagrán

Spring 2025

TuTh 5:30PM - 6:45PM

Face-to-Face

No prerequisites required

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY
BAKERSFIELD™

Department of Ethnic Studies