Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express opinions on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration as of June 30, 2015 and 2014, and the changes in its net position and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

Year Ended June 30, 2015

This section of the California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration ("Auxiliary") annual financial report includes management's discussion and analysis of the financial performance of the Auxiliary for the period July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes.

Introduction to the Financial Statements

The Auxiliary financial statements include the statement of net position, the statement of revenues, expenses and changes in net position, and the statement of cash flows. These statements are supported by notes to the financial statements and Management's Discussion and Analysis. All sections must be considered together to obtain a complete understanding of the financial picture of the Auxiliary.

Statement of Net Position: The statement of net position includes all assets and liabilities. Assets and liabilities are reported on an accrual basis as of the statement date. It also identifies major categories of restrictions of net position of the Auxiliary.

Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Position: The statement of revenues, expenses and changes in net position present the revenues earned and expenses incurred during the year on an accrual basis.

Statement of Cash Flows: The statement of cash flows present the inflows and outflows of cash for the year ending June 30, 2015 and are summarized by operating, noncapital financing, capital and related financial and investing activities. These statements are prepared using the direct method of cash flows and therefore present gross rather than net amounts for the year's activities.

Financial Overview

The following discussion highlights management's understanding of the key financial aspects of the Auxiliary's financial activities as of the period July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015. Included is an analysis of the current year activities and balances.

The Auxiliary continued the management and operation of several grants including CREST- Center for Research Excellence in Science and Technology, the Teacher Quality Partnerships, Teacher Quality Partnerships – Gro, Building Healthy Communities, CAMP - College Assistance Migrant Program, Educational Talent Search - HEP - High School Equivalency Program, Small Business Development Center and Irish Sea Grant.

The total annual revenue for grants under Auxiliary management during the year was approximately $6.6 million. Several grants that were awarded to the Auxiliary in past years experienced their final year of operation this year.

In its fifth year of operation, the Auxiliary generated approximately $581 thousand in Facilities and Administrative (F&A) indirect cost recovery - the major source of unrestricted revenue. Although the federal negotiated F&A rate is 47 percent of modified total direct costs, many awards receive a lower rate and certain categories of expense may not be used when calculating the actual cost recovery. The actual cost recovery rate for the year is 7.6 percent, above the planned rate of 7.4 percent. Projected F&A for fiscal year 2015-16 is 7.4 percent.

Grant Highlights

Grants administered by the Auxiliary included 55 new and continuing awards. The highlights note the contributions of each school or division that supports research and sponsored programs activity at the University. All four schools and many departments support grant activity that help fund activities benefiting students, teachers, small businesses and members of the CSUB community. These highlights call attention to a select few to help describe the ongoing activities and operations of the Auxiliary that have been central to expanding research and sponsored program activity at the University.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

Year Ended June 30, 2015

School of Natural Science, Mathematics and Engineering Grants

Through the School of Natural Sciences, Mathematics and Engineering (NSME), CREST, a National Science Foundation (NSF) funded grant, continues to support students interested in research related to climate change while pursuing degrees in science and technology. Our CREST program has enhanced the career prospects of a large population of students underrepresented in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields through its focus on place-based research and intensive mentoring. More than 28 students have been directly involved in the basic and applied research projects supported by this program. The majority of these students have received, or are on track to receive, an M.S. degree and have ultimately gained employment in a STEM field or been accepted into a Ph.D. program (goal of 10+ students).

The continuing success of our CREST has spurred interest in research to the point where the campus has created the California Energy Research Center (CERC) designed to bring to CSUB research projects that otherwise would have been farmed out to institutions outside the valley. This has resulted in tens of millions of dollars of research proposals for engineers and scientists. Despite the fact that CERC has only been in existence for one year, proposals have already been funded for more than $1 million.

Another grant operated through NSME is the NSF Improving Undergraduate STEM Education (IUSE) project. This grant program is designed to transform the mathematics curriculum in pre-calculus and calculus, producing a new model of integrated pedagogy that will enhance STEM education at CSUB, and remove a major roadblock to student advancement. The goals are 1) to increase the percentage of STEM students who are retained in STEM fields; 2) to broaden the support provided to students in STEM fields and increase student exposure to opportunities in STEM; and 3) to increase the number of students who graduate in STEM fields.

School of Social Sciences and Education Grants

Through the School of Social Sciences and Education, Teacher Quality Partnerships (TQP) benefits area teachers and funds professional development activities for teachers in K-12 schools. Currently, the program averages 40 teaching partnership pairings in the field per quarter. Over five years, 1,603 educators have completed the program. The training material produced and used by this program has been recognized as a model for other similar programs to follow and adopt throughout the country.

The GRO STEM (Growing Rural Opportunities) project, aims to reduce the achievement gap of students in highneed rural schools. This project, which is funded by the U.S. Department of Education, is creating a rural teacher residency program that will prepare 120 post-baccalaureate multiple-subject credential completers and Master's in Curriculum and Instruction graduates over a 5-year period. It addresses the need for qualified educators in high-need rural schools of minority and English-learner populations, with high teacher turnover rates. This project is being carried out in partnership with three Central Valley California school districts: Buttonwillow Union School District, Lamont Elementary School District, and Semitropic Elementary School District.

The project will 1) Establish a 15-month residency program that prepares residents, in cooperation with the partner school districts, to develop, teach and assess high-quality STEM curriculum in rural, high-need schools. 2) Develop teachers who will strive to close the achievement gap of high-need rural students through the use of Common Core State Standards and the Next Generation Science Standards. 3) Build and sustain a pipeline of credentialed teachers committed to teaching in high-need rural school districts. 4) Enhance the administrative and teacher leadership skills of LEA administrators.

The Educational Talent Search (ETS) serves five high schools in Kern County and three middle schools in the Bakersfield School District. The program provides services for disadvantaged homeless and foster youth, as well as low-income and potential first-generation college students. The program provides the following services to the target population: 1) increasing the overall knowledge of financial aid programs; 2) making appropriate connections to tutorial programs; 3) conducting pre-college workshops for participants; 4) assisting students with enrollment process into post-secondary education. The program also follows a random cohort of seniors for six years to track the completion of a program of postsecondary education. The Talent Search Project serves 1,000 participants.

The Building Healthy Communities (BHC) grant aims "to improve the health of South Kern so that children are healthy, safe and ready to learn, and families and the communities are healthy and strong". The program is one of fourteen sites funded throughout California by The California Endowment in a long-term effort to address poverty and improve health and economic status through deep, sustained community-driven investments and partnerships. BHC South Kern is composed of local grantees, partners and community members and is managed through the Lamont Weedpatch Family Resource Center/Lamont School District which serves as the hub for the project." CSUB serves as the financial hub for this project and manages the budget and the reports for the programs.

Enrollment Management Grants

The College Access Migrant program (CAMP) continues to provide CSUB students with a migrant background an array of support services that begins with a summer program and is complemented by individual advising, career development, and community engagement activities throughout the academic year. Students participating in this program number eighty annually.

The High School Equivalency Program (HEP) continues to assist seasonal farmworkers and immediate family members in obtaining high school equivalency. Subsequent to participants achieving equivalency, this program helps participants find better jobs, begin college or vocational training. This program is one of eight HEP programs in California and the only project providing these specialized services in the southern San Joaquin Valley. Program results indicate that the CSUB HEP program high school equivalency test scores have exceeded the national average in recent years.

These increases were offset by a decrease of $388 thousand in accounts receivable. Total assets in both years consisted primarily of accounts receivable due from federal agencies.

Liabilities

Total liabilities decreased by $76 thousand to $1.2 million due largely to a decrease in deferred revenue and expense accruals. Total liabilities in both years consisted primarily of current accrued expenses related to subcontractors working on the Teacher Quality Partnership grant.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

Year Ended June 30, 2015

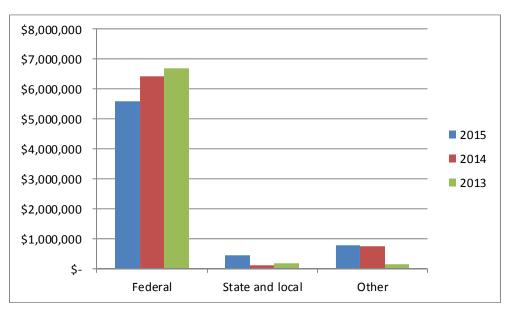

Net Position

Total net position continued to increase from $512,988 to $724,486 as a result of more grants being under management for the whole year versus a partial year. Also, last year nearly all the cost recovery generated were used to reimburse expenses the University incurred in post award and fiscal administration services. This year, the Auxiliary generated more in F&A cost recovery revenue providing funds to not only reimburse the University for fiscal administration services and academic release time salaries but also set aside unrestricted funds for the auxiliary's future operations.

less revenue from Title V A&B grants ($808 thousand) which have which have concluded as well as a decrease in revenue from Teacher Quality Partnerships ($317 thousand), and CAMP Program ($180 thousand). Notes to Financial Statements

Years Ended June 30, 2015 and 2014

Note 1 – Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Activities

California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration (Organization) was incorporated in the State of California on August 28, 2009. The Organization was formed and operated solely for the benefit of California State University, Bakersfield (CSU Bakersfield or the University) as a non-profit auxiliary organization. The Organization is responsible for the accomplishment of certain University objectives that require financial support not provided by the State. These activities occur in all aspects of University life, including the development and administration of sponsored grants and contracts for faculty and staff research and educational projects.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying basic financial statements have been prepared using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Revenues are recorded when earned and expenses are recorded when a liability is incurred, regardless of the timing of related cash flows. Grants and similar items are recognized as revenue as soon as all eligibility requirements have been met.

The basic financial statements required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statements Nos. 34, as amended, and 35 include a Statement of Net Position, a Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Position, and a Statement of Cash Flows.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Organization is a qualified nonprofit organization that is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and Section 23701(d) of the California Revenue and Taxation Code. However, the Organization remains subject to taxes on any net income which is derived from a trade or business regularly carried on and unrelated to its exempt purpose.

The Organization follows accounting standards generally accepted in the United States of America related to the recognition of uncertain tax positions. The Organization recognizes accrued interest and penalties associated with uncertain tax positions as part of the statement of activities, when applicable. Management has determined that the Organization has no uncertain tax positions at June 30, 2015 and 2014 and therefore no amounts have been accrued.

Accounts Receivable

The accounts receivable arise in the normal course of operations. It is the policy of management to review the outstanding accounts receivable at year end, as well as the bad debt write-offs experienced in the past, and establish an allowance for doubtful accounts for uncollectible amounts. A provision for doubtful accounts has not been established as management considers all accounts to be collectible based upon a favorable history over a substantial period of time. If amounts become uncollectible, they will be charged to operations when that determination is made.

Capital Assets

The Organization capitalizes all expenditures for capital assets in excess of $5,000. Equipment and improvements are recorded at cost or at estimated fair value at date of gift if donated. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged against operations. Depreciation is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets of 3 to 10 years.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the Audit Committee California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of the internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration's financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Report on Internal Control over Compliance

Management of California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above. In planning and performing our audit of compliance, we considered California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration's internal control over compliance with the types of requirements that could have a direct and material effect on each major federal program to determine the auditing procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on compliance for each major federal program and to test and report on internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over compliance. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of California State University, Bakersfield, Auxiliary for Sponsored Programs Administration's internal control over compliance.

A deficiency in internal control over compliance exists when the design or operation of a control over compliance does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program on a timely basis. A material weakness in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance, such that there is a reasonable possibility that material noncompliance with a type of compliance requirement of a federal program will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. A significant deficiency in internal control over compliance is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over compliance with a type of compliance is a deficiency, or a reasonable possibility that material program that is less severe than a material weakness in internal control over compliance, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

Our consideration of internal control over compliance was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control over compliance that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control over compliance that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, material weaknesses may exist that have not been identified.

The purpose of this report on internal control over compliance is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over compliance and the results of that testing based on the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. Accordingly, this report is not suitable for any other purpose.

Federal Award Finding and Questioned Costs

Finding 2014-002 – Reporting

Program: Small Business Administration, Pass-Through University of California Merced, Small Business Development Center, CFDA 59.037.

Criteria: The program states that quarterly reports are required and must be submitted by deadline given.

Cause and Effect: The Organization has established policies and procedures to ensure that reports are being submitted timely as noted in the program guidelines. However, it was noted that the Organization was not following these policies and procedures and a report was submitted over 30 days past the due date given.

Recommendations: The Organization should make sure they are following policies and procedures in place in order to ensure that deadlines are accurately met.

Views of Responsible Officials and Planned Corrective Actions: The Organization agrees that the report in question for SBDC was submitted late. This was inadvertent. Organization does have, and does train, all grantee holders on the established policies and procedures regarding research administration best practices. To ensure compliance with agency terms and conditions regarding reporting deadlines, the GRaSP coordinator for SBDC will send email reminders to PI and department Coordinators 30 days before the billing due date and follow up to ensure report was submitted on time.

Of the forty client files selected for testing, twenty-nine files had missing and/or incomplete documentation to support that the applicants were eligible to receive services under the Small Business Development Center. The finding stems from a lack of reviewing procedures for file maintenance.

Status: We did not identify similar findings during the audit for the year ended June 30, 2015.
